Edit Toilets

1) Click on the specific marker on the WC-Guide map and select "Edit" > you will then be redirected to the corresponding entry on openstreetmap.org.

2) If you don't have an OpenStreetMap login yet, you can register for free with your email address and a user name of your choice.

3) In the sidebar on the left, all tags relating to the corresponding toilet are displayed. If you want to change or add tags, click on "Edit".

If you are in the editor for the first time, you can do a "Walk Through" to get to know the OpenStreetMap editor or directly click on "Edit now".

4) Check that the correct toilet marker is selected. It lights up red.

5) In the sidebar you can see the properties that are usually assigned to a toilet. The following tags are relevant for the WC Guide:
- Wheelchair: Yes/No
- Name
- Description
- Fee: Yes/No
- Changing table: Yes/No
- Opening hours (OSM has a standardised notation for opening hours, e.g. Mon-Sun 08:00-21:00. Here is a tool to easily create the syntax: https://projets.pavie.info/yohours)

All fields are optional, so please only make entries if you are certain about the content.

Another way is to click on "Edit" on different toilets within WC-Guide, preferably with a name or description, and have a look at the properties to take examples.

6) When you have made your changes, you will find an arrow in the top right-hand corner with the label "Save" and the number of changes. Click on it and then leave a short comment in the sidebar on the left about what has been changed. Then click „Upload".

The changes are saved directly in OpenStreetMap, but it can take up to 24 hours until they are visible in the WC-Guide.
